WELCOME TO THE EDIT

Greece — The Ancient World at Its Most Beautiful

Greece is not one destination — it is many. The marble grandeur of Athens, the whitewashed infinity of Santorini, the cosmopolitan energy of Mykonos, the lush Venetian beauty of Corfu, and Crete — the largest and most varied of all the islands, with its own distinct soul entirely.

From the medieval lanes of Chania and the harbour of Agios Nikolaos to the wild pink sands of Balos Beach and the Minoan history of Heraklion, Crete alone could fill an entire trip. Together, these islands are the finest collection of destinations on earth. Dress for the light.

“

In Greece, the light is the stylist. Wear white and let it do its work.

BEST TIME TO VISIT

May through October is the Greek season. June and September are the finest months — warm, sunny, and without the intense heat and crowds of July and August. Crete's south coast stays warm well into October — perfect for a late-season escape.

MAY–JUNE

Warm, uncrowded, perfect light

JULY–AUG

Peak heat, peak energy

SEPT–OCT

Golden, calm, best kept secret

Quality oversized sunglasses

HER GREECE STYLE PRINCIPLE

The palette: white, cobalt blue, terracotta, gold, and the deep blue of the Aegean.
The island standard: linen dress + flat leather sandal + straw hat + minimal gold.
Crete is more rugged than Santorini — pack a sturdy sandal for coastal paths and gorge walks.
Athens demands one elevated look — the rooftop bars with Acropolis views set the standard.

BEAUTY & TOILETRIES

What to Bring

Greek sun is intense from May through October. SPF is non-negotiable.
 Greek pharmacies () stock excellent products — pick up extra SPF on arrival.
 Crete's south coast beaches involve rocky terrain and strong sun — waterproof SPF is essential.

HER BEAUTY BAG

SPF 50 face (waterproof for island life)
 Tinted SPF or bronzing drops
 Waterproof mascara (only essential)
 Terracotta or coral lip colour
 Gold highlighter (very Greece)
 Light floral or marine perfume
 Salt spray for effortless beach waves
 After-sun body lotion (aloe-based)

HIS GROOMING KIT

SPF 50 face moisturiser
 Cologne (light — heat amplifies scent)
 Beard oil or balm
 Lip balm with SPF
 Deodorant (heat-proof)
 Hair paste or wax (sea air-friendly)
 After-sun gel
 Tinted moisturiser (optional)

ESSENTIALS & SMART TRAVEL

TECH & PRACTICALITIES

EU Type C/F adapter
 Portable phone charger
 Reusable water bottle (Greek heat is serious)
 Dry bag (boat trips, water taxis, and Balos Beach landing)

THE EXTRAS THAT MATTER

Euros in cash (islands and Crete villages are often cash-only)
 Ferry and boat tickets booked in advance
 Travel insurance (includes water sports and hiking)
 Offline maps — Cretan gorges and coastal paths have no signal

WHAT NOT TO PACK — EVER

Revealing clothing at churches and monasteries — cover shoulders and knees respectfully
 Stilettoes on cobblestones — Oia, the Plaka, Chania old town, and Agios Nikolaos are all ancient and uneven
 Excessive luggage — ferries, water taxis, and Cretan mountain paths reward compact bags
 Only beach clothes — Athens, Heraklion, and Chania all deserve one elevated evening look
 Cheap jewellery — Greek gold is world-class and worth buying here instead

PACKING STRATEGY & CHECKLIST

Island by Island — The Insider Approach

ATHENS: Stay in Monastiraki or Koukaki — walk the Acropolis at dawn before the crowds arrive.

SANTORINI: Stay in Imerovigli over Oia — same caldera views, fewer tourist crowds, better value.

MYKONOS: Book Nammos or Scorpios well in advance — beach club tables fill weeks ahead in summer.

CORFU: Base in Corfu Town — the Venetian old town is a UNESCO site and deserves more than a day.

CRETE — CHANIA: The most beautiful town in Crete. Stay inside the Venetian harbour walls.

CRETE — AGIOS NIKOLAOS: Charming, less visited, on a lake connected to the sea — perfect base for east Crete.

CRETE — BALOS BEACH: Accessible by boat from Kissamos or a 4x4 drive — worth every effort.

CRETE — HERAKLION: The Palace of Knossos is non-negotiable. Stay one night minimum for the evening atmosphere.

“

The Aegean is bluer than any blue you've imagined. Crete is wilder than you expect. Dress for both.
