WELCOME TO THE EDIT

Mexico City — Culture, Cuisine, and Constant Discovery

Mexico City is one of the world's great cultural capitals — and one of the most surprisingly stylish. CDMX has its own distinct aesthetic that mixes modernism with deep tradition. Condesa and Roma are as chic as any European neighbourhood. Polanco rivals Paris for fine dining and luxury boutiques.

The altitude (2,240m) means cooler temperatures than you'd expect for a tropical country. Layers are essential year-round. And the art, food, and nightlife demand a wardrobe that can do everything from museum to mezcalería.

“

CDMX moves fast and dresses with purpose. Keep up.

BEST TIME TO VISIT

March–May is warm and dry — ideal. November–February is cooler and very pleasant. June–September is rainy season — afternoon showers, but mornings are often beautiful.

 Artisan bracelet or cuff (buy at Mercado de Artesanías)

HER CDMX STYLE PRINCIPLE

The palette: terracotta, deep teal, cobalt, ivory, black. Bold and considered.
 CDMX women dress with serious intention — this city rewards effort and punishes lazy dressing.
 Buy earrings and jewellery here. Mexican artisan work is extraordinary and prices are fair.

BEAUTY &amp; TOILETRIES

What to Bring

At 2,240m altitude, skin can dehydrate faster than you expect.
Rich moisturiser is your priority. Bring more than you think you need — altitude is unforgiving.

HER BEAUTY BAG

SPF 30 daily moisturiser
Rich hydrating serum (altitude)
Long-wear foundation or tinted moisturiser
Long-wear mascara
Bold lip (red or terracotta)
Rich body moisturiser
Statement fragrance (CDMX appreciates bold scent)
Hair oil (altitude dryness)

HIS GROOMING KIT

SPF 30 moisturiser (daily)
Rich hydrating serum (altitude)
Cologne (warm and bold)
Beard balm or oil
Lip balm (altitude dehydration)
Hair product (altitude affects hold)
Deodorant
Face wipes

ESSENTIALS &amp; SMART TRAVEL

TECH & PRACTICALITIES

US Type A/B adapter (Mexico uses US plugs)
Portable phone charger
Compact umbrella (rainy season)
Altitude sickness tablets (if sensitive)

THE EXTRAS THAT MATTER

Mexican pesos in cash
Offline maps downloaded
Travel insurance docs
Anti-theft crossbody for Centro

WHAT NOT TO PACK — EVER

Shorts in upscale restaurants — CDMX fine dining has genuine standards
Flip flops or beach sandals — this is a city, not a resort
Light or unlined fabrics only — evenings at altitude can be genuinely cold
Expensive items for walking in Centro Histórico — awareness is important
Only one layer — the altitude temperature swing from noon to midnight is significant

PACKING STRATEGY &amp; CHECKLIST

Arriving in Mexico City

Stay in Condesa, Roma, or Polanco — these are the city's cultural heartbeats.
 Book Pujol, Contramar, or Quintonil weeks in advance — these tables are hard to get.
 Use UBER exclusively — it is safe, reliable, and far more convenient than taxis.
 Visit Frida Kahlo's Casa Azul on a weekday morning — queues on weekends are extreme.

“

CDMX will surprise you, move you, and feed you extraordinarily well.
